Mendeley Web Importer is available for all major web browsers. Get Web Importer for Safari Import papers, web pages and other documents directly into your reference library from search engines and academic databases. Mendeley Web Importer is available for Chrome, Firefox, Safari and Edge. Download Chrome | Download Firefox | Download Edge | Download Safari Skip to Main Content It looks like you're using Internet Explorer 11 or older. This website works best with modern browsers such as the latest versions of Chrome, Firefox, Safari, and Edge. If you continue with this browser, you may see unexpected results. Fast, convenient import of references and PDFs to your Mendeley Reference Manager library. Mendeley Web Importer detects article identifiers on the page you are viewing and automatically retrieves metadata and PDF full texts (where available) for you to add to your library. You just need to be viewing an article or a list of references in the browser and click on the Mendeley Web Importer extension icon in the toolbar. You'll need a Mendeley account to save, read and cite the articles you import. To sign up and receive 2GB free storage space, visit Made with in London. Clicking the Mendeley Web Importer button in the browser toolbar finds article metadata and PDF full texts associated with the page you are viewing. You can then add these to your Mendeley account library which makes it easy to read and cite the articles. To sign up and receive 2GB free storage space, visit Policy/Mendeley Web Importer needs to read and store some browser information. We also log some of this information to help analyse problems and guide product development. Cookies. These are stored in your browser and are used to sign you into your Mendeley account. Eric Kunto Arbowo Mendeley Advisor www.eric.kunto.comeric.kunto@unwidha.id Mendeley.com allows you to view and edit your library in a layout that resembles the Desktop. It also offers much more. First, you should set up your profile. Click on your name in the top right corner to edit your information. Be sure to add your ORCID and Scopus Author IDs so that Mendeley can search for previous publications. If you already have been assigned a Scopus ID, you can integrate it with your ORCID ID. If you're a new author, consider registering with ORCID for a persistent digital identifier that is unique to you. Feed provides you with news and updates from your research network. It also features news from Mendeley. Suggest is updated with other papers you might be interested in, related to what's in your library. You can save new article citations to your Library directly from this page. Stats tracks how many times your publications have been viewed and cited. It also pulls in altmetrics from the web, such as mentions on news websites. Groups allows you to view and create groups for project and research collaboration with colleagues. It also allows you to search for groups by discipline that you might like to join. Data is a repository where you can upload and share your datasets. You can also browse to see what others have shared. Search allows you to discover papers, people, groups, and support. You already know which web browser you think is best for Android, but just because we like it doesn't mean you have to. Thankfully, there are dozens of them with different feature sets. This week, we want to know which one you think is the best for browsing the web on your Android phone or tablet. There's no shortage of great web browsers for Android, and which one you use is largely up to... Read more There are dozens of browsers for Android available, not including the stock one that most of us get with our phones. The stock one is great, but it's definitely lacking when it comes to advanced features. If you're an iOS fan, don't worry, we'll get around to your favorite picks next week, but we're starting with Android! Leave your vote for the best Android browser in the discussions below. The call for contenders is closed! To see which of your nominees earned enough support to make the top five, head over to the five best Android web browsers to read up and vote for your favorite! There are dozens of great web browsers available for Android, depending on the features you're... Read more Hive Five nominations take place in the discussions, where you post your favorite tool for the job. We get hundreds of nominations, so to make your nomination clear, please include it at the top of your comment like so: VOTE: BEST ANDROID WEB BROWSER. Please don't include your vote in a reply to another person. Instead, make your vote and reply separate discussions. After you've made your nomination, let us know what makes it stand out from the competition. About the Hive Five: The Hive Five feature series asks readers to answer the most frequently asked question we get: "Which tool is the best?" Once a week we'll put out a call for contenders looking for the best solution to a certain problem, then YOU tell us your favorite tools to get the job done. Every weekend, we'll report back with the top five recommendations and give you a chance to vote on which is best. For an example, check out last week's five best to-do list managers. Finding the right tool to track your to-dos is highly personal, and one person's best is another's... Read more The Hive Five is based on reader nominations. As with most Hive Five posts, if your favorite was left out, it's not because we hate it—it's because it didn't get the nominations required in the call for contenders post to make the top five. We understand it's a bit of a popularity contest, but if you have a favorite, we want to hear about it. Have a suggestion for the Hive Five? Send us an email at tips+hivefive@lifehacker.com!
